Note the change in A. & H. Harrison's advertisement.

The business of the county court having been disposed of the court adjourned for the term Saturday.

McELREE'S WINE OF CARDUI for Weak Nerves.

Messrs. T. A. Low and B. F. Robinson left for Rockport Friday.

Miss Elinor Burnett, of Henderson, is visiting friends in the city.

Master Edwin Abbott accidentally cut his foot with a spade Friday evening, inflicting a painful wound.

In a few days I will have everything in the way of silverware, fancy articles, brass and marble clocks.
E. R. FRANKLIN.

The rain of Friday was pretty general all over the county, though not as copious in some sections as in the immediate vicinity of Brenham.

The young lady, Miss Annie Burton, whose recent death was reported in Thursdays BANNER, was the daughter of Mr. Travis Burton, instead of Mr. Jack Burton, as reported here.

McELREE'S WINE OF CARDUI a Tonic for Women.

Misses Mattie and Carrie Hardy, daughters of Mr. J. H. Hardy, of Gay Hill, returned from Austin Saturday, where they have been attending school since last September.

Marshal T. L. Swain and Constable Boyd marched a negro from the Union depot waiting room Saturday for carrying a pistol. The weapon was a murderous looking affair near two feet long, which he was endeavoring to conceal.

The BANNER omitted to mention the tasteful medal awarded by Miss Tina Bell Slater to Miss Alita Gardner, for proficiency, during the year, in her music. The presentation was made by T. B. Botts, Esq., in his usual happy and ready manner.

More Help.

The BANNER noted a few days ago the arrival of Mr. J. R. Jones, a well known jeweler of San Antonio, who had accepted a position in the jewelry store of Mr. A. T. Threadgill, as well as his recent purchase of a large and complete jewelry outfit, which added to his repair department makes it one of the most complete in the state, but strolling in there Saturday evening we notice another man had been added to the force, Mr. I. N. Marquis, of Houston, who comes recommended by the well known jewelry establishment of Messrs. Sweeney & Combs, of that city.

With these two gentlemen, both of whom are as fine jewelers and engravers as can be found in any first class establishment Mr. Threadgill is prepared to turn out all kinds of fine work promptly and guarantees satisfaction.

Mr. J. H. South is now with me as watch maker and jeweler, and you need have no fears of not being able to get a watch of any description repaired and satisfaction guaranteed.
F. R. FRANKLIN.

Light Guard Election.

A meeting of the Light Guard was held Friday night for the purpose of electing a First and Second Lieutenant, both offices being vacant.

Capt. Heartfield said that he believed that Capt. Byrnes could be prevailed upon to accept an office in the company, and tendered his resignation as captain and moved that the company hold an election for all officers, which resulted as follows: Captain, J. M. Byrnes; First Lieutenant, R. A. Heartfield; Second Lieutenant, C. L. Wilkins.

This officers the company with the same team that the company had at the Galveston drill when they won the first prize of $1,000.

They accepted the invitation to attend the 4th of July celebration at Burton, and by request of the Adjutant General took the sense of the company in regard to the approaching encampment, voting in favor of a ten days encampment.

Next Friday night will be their regular monthly inspection and drill.

Second Lieutenant Thos. A. Holland resigned from membership of the company.

RE-UNION.

THE COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

The Opera House was illuminated for the first time in its history Friday night with electric lights, and its seating capacity tested with an appreciative audience who turned out to witness the closing exercises of the 16th annual Commencement of the Brenham High School.

The programme opened by the school "Welcome To-Night," which was rendered in such a manner as to indicate what might be expected before the rendition of the last chorus on the programme "Moonlight on the Lake," which was superlatively grand.

The salutatory by Miss Fannie Budd, the oration, "Beacon Lights of the World" by Edwin C. Abbott. "The Progress of Texas" by Harry L. Garrett, "The Two Portraits" recitation by Miss Susie Battaille were all good and deserving of especial mention, if our limited space did not preclude the possibility of such an extended notice.

The instrumental solo by Miss Ada Wallney and the duett by Misses Lillian Hoffmann and Daisy Eldridge, as well as the solos by Misses Ellie Pennington and Beulah Burke, were all well executed.

The songs of seven by seven young ladies were seven times as good as it would have been by one, that could have been excelled by none.

The oration of Master Robt. Harrison, "Ambition has no rest," was well rendered, as was the recitation by Miss Gracie Slater.

The valedictory, "Woman and her mission," by Miss Ada Wallney, was good, instructive and interesting.

T. B. Botts, Esq., delivered the literary address, which was a literary gem, and conferred diplomas on the graduating class as follows:

Misses Susi Battaille, Fannie Budd, Annie Hill, Daisy Eldridge, Lillie Hoffmann, Gracie Slater, Ellie Pennington, Ada Wallney, Hettie Wilkins, and Masters Edwin C. Abbott, Harry L. Garrett, and Robert Harrison.

Diplomas for partial course were also conferred on Misses Beulah Burke, Highland Gee and Courtney Williams.

Certificate for partial course conferred on Henry Ray.

The Opera House was crowded to its utmost capacity, many ladies having to stand during the entire performance. There was near 400 tickets sold at the entrance, besides the complimentary issued by the school, which perhaps, amounted to as many more.

The Green Oak shooting club will give a grand picnic, and prize shooting to commence at 9 o'clock June the 14th. Grand ball at night. Gun clubs all invited to attend.

The BANNER has been turning out quantities of handsome job work this week.
